About Bloomsburg

Bloomsburg University, a member of Pennsylvania’s State System of Higher Education, is a four-year coeducational public university founded in 1839. Through the stages of its development from a normal school to a teachers college to a multipurpose state college and finally to a university in 1983, the institution has retained its emphasis on liberal arts and career education.

Bloomsburg is recognized as one of the best 100 public universities in the United States, and excellence, ranging from its 12 NCAA championships to its international reputation in a number of its academic programs, is an attitude found throughout the faculty and staff.

About 90 percent of Bloomsburg’s students come from throughout Pennsylvania, creating a diverse mix of cultures and ideas. It’s a place where friendships that last a lifetime begin. And it’s a busy place — with more than 160 student organizations and activities, NCAA Division II athletic programs and a popular recreation center.

The university’s Division of Continuing and Distance Education serves students through nondegree credit courses, noncredit minicourses, off-campus classes, credit for life experience and distance learning courses on public television. The Town of Bloomsburg, located in the Susquehanna River Valley, has a population of about 12,000 people. The central business district is just three blocks southwest of campus, and includes more than 80 retail stores, restaurants, and the Bloomsburg Fair in September. More stores, restaurants and theaters can be found along nearby Route 11 and at the Columbia Mall, northwest of town.

The university is within a one-hour drive from such cities as Hazleton, Williamsport, Wilkes-Barre and Scranton; 1.5 hours from Harrisburg; 2.5 hours from Philadelphia; 3 hours from New York City and Baltimore; and four hours from Pittsburgh and Washington, DC.

A Few Facts About Bloomsburg

Enrollment— Total enrollment is over 8,040, with an average incoming SAT of 1070 and class rank in the upper 25 percent; Bloomsburg admits one in seven applicants and has a four-year retention rate significantly higher than the national average. About 60 percent are women and 10 percent are non-traditional. About 90 percent of Bloomsburg graduates are quickly placed in their chosen fields.

Faculty— With approximately 1,000 employees, Bloomsburg University has 383 full-time faculty, 70 percent of whom hold doctoral degrees and 72 percent of whom are tenured. The staff is organized into four divisions: Academic Affairs, Administration, Student Life and University Advancement. Governance is through the State System of Higher Education’s Board of Governors and through the university’s Council of Trustees.

Degrees— Bloomsburg University offers 63 baccalaureate degrees, 18 master’s degrees and a joint doctoral degree in elementary education in cooperation with Indiana University of Pennsylvania.

Financial Aid— About 70 percent of all students receive some form of financial aid; average amount of aid is $10,026 per year.

Cost— About $5,700 per semester for Pennsylvania residents (tuition, fees, typical room and board plans), $10,026 for non-residents.

School Colors, Mascot— The school colors, originally “lemon and garnet,” have been maroon and gold since the 1920s. In the early 1930s, the Husky became the school mascot when a dog owned by a faculty member accompanied Adm. Richard E. Byrd on an expedition to the South Pole.

Head Coach Terry Conrad

Terry Conrad begins his third season at the helm of the Bloomsburg men’s basketball program. Conrad came to Bloomsburg after spending three seasons as head coach of Lycoming College in Williamsport, PA.

A 1983 graduate of Bloomsburg University, Conrad guided the Warriors to an overall record of 33-31 and three Middle Atlantic Conference Freedom League playoff berths and one NCAA playoff appearance. In Conrad’s first season he led Lycoming to a record of 13-12 and a spot in the Freedom League playoffs. In his second season Conrad’s team went 20-8 and won the Freedom Conference title, the first in school history, and earned a trip to the NCAA Division III championships, where it won a first round game. Conrad was honored that season by the Freedom League as its Coach of the Year.

Conrad came to Lycoming after serving as first assistant men’s basketball coach at Bucknell University from 1989 to 2000. During his 11 years at Bucknell, Conrad helped coach the Bison to an average of 17 wins per season, a league record of 101-48 and three Patriot League Championships. He also coordinated Bucknell’s recruitment efforts, which yielded 11 All-League players, one rookie of the year and a first-team Academic All-American since 1989.

Prior to his work at Bucknell, Conrad served as an assistant coach for the men’s basketball program at Shenandoah University in Winchester, VA for three seasons. In 1989, Conrad helped lead Shenandoah to an Eastern College Athletic Conference championship with a record of 21-9. That team qualified for the NCAA Division III National Playoffs and advanced to the second round.

Conrad’s coaching career began at his alma mater, Bloomsburg University, in 1983. Conrad had played for Bloomsburg during his undergraduate days from 1979 to 1983. As a player, he led the Huskies to three consecutive seasons of 20 or more wins and three consecutive trips to the NCAA Division II tournament in 1983, he was named team captain and led Bloomsburg to a record of 23-10 and an NCAA Regional Championship. He ended his playing career as the 10th leading scorer (now 16th) in Bloomsburg history with 1,081 points. Conrad is also eighth in assists with 269.

Conrad has also worked as an instructor at numerous summer basketball camps, including Georgia Tech and the University of Kentucky. He is also a 21-year member of the National Association of Basketball Coaches and served for a time on the NABC Division I Assistant Coaches Committee.

Conrad was also NABC/NCAA Certified at 2005 NABC Convention.

Terry is a graduate of Delone Catholic High School in McSherrystown, Pa. He graduated from Bloomsburg with a degree in business education and went on to earn a master’s degree in business administration from Shenandoah University. Conrad resides in Lewisburg with his wife Kari and their children, Travis, Emily and Kasey.

Coaching Staff

Graduate Assistant Andy O’Brien

O’Brien begins his second season as a graduate assistant for the Huskies. O’Brien came to Bloomsburg after a very successful playing career at York College of Pennsylvania.

Assistant Coach Tae Norwood

Tae Norwood begins his first year as assistant men’s basketball coach. Norwood came to Bloomsburg after spending a season at Milligan (TN) College as an assistant coach, intramural director and assistant resident director. Prior to coaching at Milligan, Norwood was an administrative assistant at Georgia Southern University while earning his master’s degree in Kinesiology with an emphasis in Coaching.

A 2000 graduate of Green Mountain College (GMC), Norwood played four years on the men’s basketball team, where he was named to the All-Conference in 1999 and 2000. A three-year starter at GMC, Norwood starred on three conference championship teams and made three trips to the NAIA national tournament. During his time at Green Mountain he was instrumental in the team recording a record of 53-4. He is currently the all-time career leader in assists and steals at Green Mountain.

O’Brien ends his career as the leading all-time leading scorer in the Capital Athletic Conference and at York College with 2,001 career points. He was a three-time All-CAC selection and a two-time d3hoops.com All-Region choice. He earned d3hoops.com All-American honors as a senior.

O’Brien, a 2004 York College grad, is pursuing his master’s degree in the Instructional Technology at Bloomsburg.

O’Brien begins his second season as a graduate assistant for the Huskies. O’Brien came to Bloomsburg after a very successful playing career at York College of Pennsylvania.
The beginning of each season always brings new hope and excitement to the coaches and players. This season head coach Terry Conrad is especially excited and hopeful about the 2005-06 men’s basketball season.

“I think we can be more competitive in the PSAC East and get more wins as we continue to improve our program,” said Conrad. “We have some new additions and they are mixing with the returning players nicely. I think as a group we can have better success.”

Last season, the Huskies had a young, inexperienced roster and they struggled to compete in this conference. This year’s team, however, is more experienced and should improve on last season’s record. Conrad has a number of goals that he feels this season’s team can meet. “As always our primary goal is to have a winning season and be one of the top four teams in the PSAC East so that we can advance to the PSAC playoffs,” said Conrad.

In order to prepare for the PSAC match ups, Conrad has scheduled a very demanding non-conference schedule. This includes an exhibition game against Division I, St. Bonaventure. “This is a great opportunity for our program,” said Conrad. St. Bonaventure will be a great test for the Huskies and it will provide us with lots of insight into our program.”

The 2005-06 Huskies will be led by captains Billy Bryan and Derek Daniels. Bryan is entering his junior year at Bloomsburg. Last season he led the Huskies in rebounds and field goal percentage. “Bryan is one of our most dependable players. He has a great passion for basketball and brings a lot of intangibles,” said Conrad.

Daniels is a transfer from Division I Coppin State and Conrad believes he will step in and be a legitimate post player in the PSAC. “We expect Derek to be a force in the post area for us,” Conrad added.

In addition to Billy Bryan, Conrad expects a major contribution from point guard Andrew Jerry. “Jerry is small but he brings a lot of energy to the team and has the ability to spread the ball around,” said Conrad. Last season, Jerry finished third on the team in scoring and assists.

Freshman Seve Cunningham will back up Andrew Jerry. Cunningham had an excellent high school career and Conrad hopes he can contribute off of the bench.

Also look for sophomore Mike Cheatle to have an impact. Cheatle had an excellent rookie year averaging 7.2 points per game.

Along with Derek Daniels, Brian Holsey will play key roles in the Huskies rotation.

Center Jeremiah Long should also contribute. Long put on weight over the summer and should see solid minutes in his sophomore season.

Other key players are Matt Jefferson and Ernest Cherry. “Jefferson and Cherry will provide us with athleticism as inside/outside players,” said Conrad. Both players will help us rebound and defend against some of the best players we play against in and out of the conference.” Jefferson returns to the Huskies after sitting out last season.

The PSAC East should be very balanced this year, with East Stroudsburg and West Chester expected to compete for first place.

Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference

The Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference, with 53 years of organized competition, has established itself as one of the most respected NCAA Division II athletic conferences.

In its history the PSAC has laid claim to 35 NCAA team champions and 190 individual title winners, giving credence to its fine athletic tradition. The conference stood out again on a national level in 2003-04, as close to one-third of the league’s teams participated in NCAA postseason competition. The PSAC also distinguishes itself as the second largest Division II conference in terms of sports sponsorship, awarding titles in 22 sports.

Academic success is paramount for PSAC member institutions as well. The number of student-athletes designated by the conference as “Scholar-Athletes” - those who have attained a cumulative grade point average of 3.25 or better - has increased every year since that standard was adopted in 1995-96. The impressive figure of 1,239 PSAC Scholar-Athletes for the 2003-04 academic year is nearly double the total of those in the mid-1990s. Additionally, nine PSAC student-athletes earned CoSIDA Academic All-America Awards last season.

The PSAC was organized in 1951 to promote and administer men’s athletic programs within the 14 state teachers colleges in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. In 1977, due to the interest and growth of women’s athletics, the conference was restructured to provide for women’s programs.

From its inception, each conference member selected its own competitive division within the NCAA. In 1980, however, the presidents voted to reclassify the entire conference to Division II. Although all 14 institutions are members of NCAA Division II, eight schools have also elected to compete at the Division I level in select sports.

In 1983, all member institutions were granted university status as a result of Legislative Act 188, which formed Pennsylvania’s State System of Higher Education. This system now enrolls in excess of 104,000 students. The alumni of the State System number more than 586,000, which includes nearly 400,000 Pennsylvanians.

The Nelson Field House, located on Bloomsburg University’s upper campus, serves as home for most of the university’s indoor athletic events. The facility has all the necessary ingredients as it holds a 2,000-seat arena for all home basketball and wrestling events, an indoor track, two tennis courts, an Olympic-size swimming pool and two handball/racquetball courts. The building has classrooms and offices for use by the health/physical education and athletic staffs. Nelson Field House also houses the wrestling practice room, which is a fully padded area located on the second floor. A totally equipped Nautilus room adds to the strength and conditioning area of the program, and Nelson Field House also offers a training room staffed by two full-time physical trainers and no less than 12 student assistants. Also located in the facility is an equipment manager who handles the needs of Bloomsburg’s 18 varsity athletic teams.
